Disclaimer:

- All participants in a Birds Australia activity are required to sign on and to follow reasonable directions from the leader. By signing this attendance sheet you agree to accept the terms of Birds Australia's insurance policies and your responsibilities as a participant. You also agree to disclose to the leader any medical conditions likely to need emergency attention by completing a separate strictly confidential form which will be returned to you by the leader at the end of the activity. The completed attendance record is to be filed with the Regional Group records.
- Birds Australia provides insurance cover between the ages of 16 and 80 for members undertaking activities officially organised and controlled by the organisation. Members of the public are also covered under the same terms when participating by invitation in an officially organised and controlled Birds Australia activity.
